

This fall Xavier students have the option of studying Japanese on campus.

As part of a departmental commitment to participate fully in the internationalization of the curriculum, with its inherent advantages for students who must work as fully competent global citizens in the twenty-first century, the Department of Languages is in the process of expanding course offerings beyond the traditional instruction in French and Spanish to include the Less Commonly-Taught Languages (LCTLs) that will be significant in the development of international business, diplomacy, and scholarship.

Dr. Masako Dorrill, former Director of Japanese Studies at Dillard, will teach one class of JAPN1010 (Elementary Japanese 1) on the XU campus from 2:00-2:50 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays during the fall semester. Students will also take a drill session on Fridays from 3-3:50. Any student who cannot take the drill at that time should see the instructor so that alternate arrangements can be made.

Students who have questions about this course should contact Dr. Susan Spillman, Department of Languages, in Room 549 of the Library Resource Center LRC 549, ext. 5112. She can be reached by e-mail to sspillma@xula.edu.

THERE ARE NO PREREQUISITES FOR THIS COURSE. ALL STUDENTS AND FACULTY MEMBERS ARE WELCOME TO ENROLL!

Other LCTLs are available at Loyola and Tulane! All Xavier students may enroll in these classes through the Consortium at no extra charge.
